HORVATH STUDENT ART SHOW WINNERS ON DISPLAY AT UNIVERSITY OF DAYTON

DAYTON, Ohio, April 6, 1990--Award-winning pieces by University of Dayton student artists will be on display through April 24 as part of the annual Horvath Student Art Show at UD's Rike Center Art Gallery on campus. Admission to the exhibit, which includes paintings, photography, sculpture and jewelry, is free and open to the public.

Barry Gealt, professor of art at Indiana University at Bloomington, served as judge for the exhibit. The former chair of the Wright State University art department, Gealt was one of eight artists from across the nation featured in a "Paper Invitational" exhibit at UD earlier this month. More than 100 student works were chosen for the Horvath show, and eight awards were presented.

The Horvath Student Art Show's first-place award went to David Moser of Dayton. Second-place winner was Kim Mahar of Freeland, Mich., and third place was awarded to Dennis Harsh of Lima. Honorable mention awards were given to David Diesing, Dayton; Teresa Vidoni, Dayton; Mark Parker, Topeka, Kan.; Michael Harper, St. Louis, Mo.; and Mark Trerotola, Pine Brook, N.J.

The annual Horvath award was established at UD by Josephine C. Horvath in remembrance of her husband, Bela, who died in 1973 following a distinguished career as an artist. Mrs. Horvath died in 1984, but a committee of UD art students has continued the tradition in memory of the couple.

Hours at the UD Rike Center Art Gallery are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. For further information, contact the fine arts division of UD's performing and visual arts department at (513) 229-3247.
